COLLEGE OVERVIEW

Responding to the University's goals of Connect Discover Grow, the College of Indigenous Futures, Arts and Society has been developed to promote Charles Darwin University's strengths in disciplines centred around people and cultures.

With particular attention to regional, remote and developing contexts and solutions for emerging social, cultural and economic issues in sparsely populated regions and to help define CDU, the grouping of:

- Creative Arts,
- Design,
- Humanitarian, Emergency & Disaster Management,
- Humanities & Social Science,
- Indigenous Knowledges,
- Languages, and the
- Northern Institute

will support us to meet aspirations for quality and growth and ultimately, the future strength and sustainability of CDU.

COLLEGE STRUCTURE

The new college structure, headed up by the Dean, Assistant Dean – Learning Futures, D-Lab Chairs and the College Manager amalgamates the former schools to offer opportunities for synergies with existing courses whilst opening up new and innovative approaches to research, teaching and learning for the region and beyond.

This enables the unique opportunity to take advantage of the extraordinary richness and distinctive location of the University in northern Australia, adjacent to Southeast Asia and beyond.
